Gone Mcfeters

I walked the hills,
I talked with God.
I saw the place
His feet had trod.

I felt His breath
Upon me pass
Like wind that stirs
The lowly grass.

I brushed His hand
With one small wing.
Now, God and I
Are everything.

We, the senior class, feel very fortunate to have had as advisors these two people who have been ever present to help us through our many activities. Always when something went wrong we could depend upon Mrs. Culler and Mr. Chaney to see us through. Now, we dedicate this annual to Mrs. Culler and Mr. Chaney in appreciation of their co-operation, their leadership, and all-round good sportsmanship to help us through our last year of high school.

WE'RE HERE

If one could turn back the pages of time to September, 1942, you would see 68 shy and bashful seventh graders roaming the corridors of our high school building. They would be asking questions like these—"Where's room 3?"—"What subject do we have now?"—or—"Why do we have to run up and down stairs so much?" We also felt that the secondary curriculum should be changed so as to allow us time for recess. Strangely enough these shy and backward creatures turned out to be the Class of '48. After adjusting ourselves, we elected our officers who were Ora Miller, Floyd Kimple, and Carol Sackrider—President, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer respectively. We had Mrs. Culler and Mr. Kunkle as our advisors. Our two class parties consisted of contests, dancing, and refreshments.

Next year, for some reason, 58 of us returned as "big kids", in other words, eighth graders. The officers elected were as follows: President, Betty Tomlinson; vice-president, Pat Wyckoff and secretary-treasurer, Deloy Preston. Our class parties were about the same as our seventh grade parties.

By this time we were Freshmen, we felt that this whole cycle had started over, for now, our hair would almost stand on end when anyone mentioned "initiation". Calming ourselves, we elected Ora Miller as President, Naomi Lantz as vice-president, and Anna Neidhardt as secretary-treasurer. The sponsor for our class, which now totaled 57, was Mr. Snorf.

At last, as Sophomores, we could be free from all fears concerning initiation. We chose Dick Moore as President, Bill Cleland as vice-president, and Anna Neidhardt as secretary-treasurer. The majority vote of our 56 members determined as our motto—"Life is but a picture, so paint it well", our class flower—white carnation, and green and white as our class colors. Finally, that glad day came when we met with our officers and sponsor, Mrs. Culler, to order our class rings and pins.

With our total now down to 47, we entered school as the Junior Class. Many in our class were active members in band, chorus, Latin Club, G.A.A., F.F.A., basketball, football and many others, therefore, it kept us all busy trying to earn money to cover our expenses. We feel that we were very successful in our Junior year, which included three main undertakings. We published the Spoondrift every two weeks; our Junior-Senior Banquet theme, "Spring in a Dutch Garden" seemed to go over very well; and last, but certainly not least, our class play, "The Amazing Maudie Starr", was received so well by the public that it was more financially successful than any Junior Class Play given since 1941. We elected officers as follows; Pete Pearson, President; Anna Neidhardt, vice-president; Betty Tomlinson, secretary, and Albert Zuber, treasurer. Our sponsors were Mr. Zimmerman and Miss Moores.

As Seniors, we chose Pete Pearson as President, Bill Cleland as vice-president, Betty Tomlinson as secretary, and Albert Zuber as treasurer. Mrs. Culler and Mr. Chaney, our capable advisors, helped us through a very happy, eventful, and memorable Senior year. We selected maroon robes with white tassels for Commencement and Baccalaureate.

September 2, 1947, marked the last time we would enter H.H.S. as students. As Seniors, when trying to realize that this was our last year of school, we found a tiny fear, or maybe I should say wonder, of what the new phase of life would be like. Many of the remarks that we made, wishing we were out of school, have been changed to, "I can't believe that I'm a Senior!" or "Gee, I'm gonna' hate to graduate". But, thinking still deeper we know that the best part is yet to come and with this thought in mind, we carry on as future citizens of what we hope to keep a peaceful world.

CLASS WILL

I, Dorothea Ames, will and bequeath my ability to have fun, to my sister, Delores, providing she doesn't have more than I did.

I, Bob Bailey, will and bequeath my ability in history, to my brother, Richard.

We, Juanita Banks and Alice Jones, will and bequeath our inseparable companionship to Carole Durre and Nova Monroe.

I, Dorothy Beerbower, will and bequeath my ability to annoy Mr. Lykens during study hall to Janice Davis, providing she doesn't overdo it.

I, Lelah Beverly, will and bequeath my ability to study in study hall to my brother, Carl.

I, Gene Brown, will and bequeath to my brother, Dick, my ability in English, providing I have any ability.

I, Jack Brown, will and bequeath my football ability to Junior Hinsch, providing he doesn't smoke cigarettes to stunt his growth.

I, William Cleland, will and bequeath to Bob Scott, my ability to read teachers' personal letters.

I, Jo Anne Cromwell, will and bequeath to Dave Zimmerman (who is already a good jerk), my ability to be a good soda jerk.

I, Marie Crouse, will and bequeath my ability to grow long fingernails in a hurry to Waneta Potter, providing she doesn't chew them off.

I, Richard Daniels, will and bequeath my seat in English class to Bill Hostetler.

We, Gene Gloor and Leon Thiel, will and bequeath our athletic abilities to "Eppie" Battershell, providing he doesn't smoke too many Earl Marshals.

I, William Handy, will and bequeath to my sister, my ability in mathematics.

I, Carroll Hetz, will and bequeath to Larry Schaufelburger, my nickname, "Plank"

I, Imorene Hinsch, will and bequeath to anyone who wants it, my seat in civics class.

I, Stanley Huntsinger, will and bequeath my ability to remember locker numbers to Kenny Horn.

I, Elinor Kallsen, will and bequeath to my brother and sister, Carl and Jean, my position as art editor on Hixonian and Spoodrift, providing they work as hard as I did.

I, Duayne Kennedy, will and bequeath, to any junior, my parking place behind the school building.

I, Floyd Kimpel, will and bequeath my seat in civics class to Jack Hostetler, providing I don't decide to keep it another year.

I, Ruth Lantz, will and bequeath my ability to concentrate in a noisy study hall, to anyone who finds it difficult.

I, Willagene Manon, will and bequeath my love for the piano, to Carole Durre, knowing she will treat it as kindly as I have.

I, David Miller, will and bequeath to Bob Fry, my ability to get soaked with moisture floating in the air during lab period.

I, Ora Miller, will and bequeath to LeMar Keener my snooker cue, providing he doesn't shoot better than I.

I, Dick Moore, will and bequeath my ability in advanced math to Jack Bauer.

I, Mary Ann Morton, will and bequeath my love for all sports to Peggy Dull, knowing she'll cheer for the boys as much as I did.

I, Anna Neidhardt, will and bequeath to my brother, Ed, my ability to get to school at the last minute in the morning, providing he doesn't get up before 8:40.

I, Virginia Nelson, will and bequeath to my sister, Carma, my 80-word typing pin, when and if I receive it in the near future.

I, Jack Panico, will and bequeath my strength to Russell Hinsch.

I, Virgil Pearson, will and bequeath to Nub Kees, the one and only hair on my chest plus the numerous fuzz and only hope that he gets teased as much as I have.

I, Richard Perkins, will and bequeath my ability to get to school at the last possible minute to Bob Scott, providing he is never late.

I, Arnold Phillips, will and bequeath my water fighting equipment in physics class to Bob Scott.

I, Deloy Preston, will and bequeath my deadly aim when water fighting in physics and chemistry, to LeMar Keener.

I, Patsy Schooley, will and bequeath my quiet manners to Tom Blosser, providing he isn't too quiet.

I, LaRayne Timbrook, will and bequeath my big brown eyes to Patty Saltzman, providing she doesn't wink at all the boys.

I, Betty Tomlinson, will and bequeath my blushing to Elva Zuber, providing she remembers it is a sign of youth. (at least I hope it is)

I, Eloise Voght, will and bequeath to Dorothy Beverly, my place in shorthand, providing she doesn't do better than I did.

I, Mervin Volkert, will and bequeath my position as right guard on the football team, to Max Preston.

I, Doris Winn, will and bequeath to Joan Wilson, my ability to laugh at the wrong time, providing she doesn't make a fool of herself.

I, Leila Wonderly, will and bequeath to anybody who is not ticklish on his feet, my habit of keeping money in my shoes.

I, Theresa Wonderly, will and bequeath my ability to meet the public to my sister, Genevieve.

I, Pat Wyckoff, will and bequeath to "Eppie" Battershell, my ability to get along with Pat Schooley.

I, Allen Yarger, will and bequeath to Mr. Rodocker, my butch hair cut, providing he doesn't wear it out like he did his.

I, Albert Zuber, will and bequeath to any worthy person who likes to work, my position as class treasurer.

CLASS PROPHECY

As I get ready to climb into my bed, I wonder what I and all my classmates will be doing 10 or 15 years from now. "Ho-hum, I sure am tired," I think, as I go off to sleep.

Hey, what's this? Here I am flying through the air in a funny contraption that resembles an airplane. Why there's another one just passing me and another one! The sky is full of them. I think perhaps I am dreaming, but just then a girl in a long skirt taps me on the shoulder. I find out to my amazement, that she is none other than Anna Neidhardt, the air hostess and that I am personally being conducted all over the world so that I might see all of the places where my classmates are. My trip is being sponsored by Dick Perkins, who is now the President of the United States. His bodyguard, I am told, is none other than that well-known man about town, Bill Cleland.

Soon, we are passing over Hicabilly, Utah. I hear that Dortie Ames and Theresa Wonderly own a dude ranch here, and have Gene Brown and Bob Bailey employed as ranch hands.

Next, we are flying over Poncho, Wyoming and I see on my list that Ora Miller is the president of that well-known club called the "Snooker Fan Club". I also see that Jack Brown holds a prominent office in the club, being the treasurer.

We fly on again. Soon we are passing over the great navy base of Whamasham, Kansas. Three of my old classmates are in training here. You are right, they are Deloy Preston, Stanley Huntsinger, and Bill Handy.

Next, we come to Picadilly, Missouri. I look on my list and see that Alice Jones and Juanita Banks are employed at Jack Panico's yo-yo factory. Alice makes the yo-yos and Juanita attaches the strings.

We fly on, and the next town is Ping-Pong, Illinois. I see on my list that Pat Schooley has done much in the educational field by building a special school for poor immigrants. Employed at Schooley's School are Plank Hetz, teaching the gym classes, Virginia Nelson, teaching commercial subjects, Dave Miller, teaching chemistry and biology, Doris Winn, teaching dramatics, Willagene Manon, teaching Latin and English, Elinor Kallsen, teaching art, and Albert Zuber, teaching history. We fly over low and just catch a part of "Cheer, Cheer for old Ping-Pong High!"

Next we come to Ouch, Indiana, in which Mr. and Mrs. Pete Pearson own a small chicken farm. When asked why they bought a chicken farm, Betty remarked that they wished to carry on the tradition of "The Egg and I".

Going on, we are soon flying over good old Hicksville, Ohio. I see that several of my classmates have preferred "H" to any other place. We see that Seth Scott and Allen Yarger own and operate the Scott-Yarger Dairy. Their milk, I am told, is absolutely the best anywhere since Mervin Volkert, the well-known scientific farmer, has developed a new germ killer which he has sold to them exclusively to use in their milk. We also see the "Red Pastry Shoppe" owned entirely by Red Daniels.

Then we see that Leon Thiel has started a theater of his own in Hicksville. He has LaRayne Timebrook employed as ticket seller and Dorthy Beerbower as ticket taker.

After checking Hicksville off my list, we are again on our way and the next stop is none other than New York City. We see here that famous, well-known, social worker Jo Anne Cromwell has started a special organization for women only. Their motto is "What Good are Men? We'll Take A Good Horse Any Day."

After checking Jo off my list, we make a landing at Finnegan, Maine, to refuel before making our round-the-world voyage. We are very surprised to see Duayne Kennedy and Arnold Phillips employed as mechanics. They refuel our plane, and we proceed across the Atlantic feeling much safer after such superior workmanship on our plane.

A few hours later we reach Paris, and whose picture should we find on all the billboards but Pat Wyckoff's. There's one we can see from our airplane. Let's see now, it reads—"Why Koff? Use our new Sasaprillo Extract."—We decide we must try some sometime, as it must be good if Pat is advertising it.

Next we are flying over Arabia. We see on our list that Eloise Voght is starting a new revolutionary movement here. She is teaching the Arabs the intoxicating ways and customs of the United States.

Soon after, we are flying over No Chow, China. Here we find Gene Gloor and Floyd Kimple owning a small Chinese restaurant, and who should they have selling their chop suey but Ruth Lantz and Lelah Beverly.

We decide we have spent enough time in the Orient, so we start on our long flight back to the United States.

We stop at Tapooka, Hawaii to refuel before flying on home. Believe it or not, we see Mary Ann Morton teaching the natives the Hawaiian War Chant, American style.

We then continue our long flight home, and reach the United States in a surprisingly short time. I see on my list that there is just one more stop. We circle on up to Lemon, Canada, where Imogene Hinsch is training to be a mounted policeman—pardon me, a mounted policewoman.

At last I can breathe a sigh of relief, as everyone is safely checked off my list. I then start back for Washington to carry my report to Dick. Oh—what's happening? The plane is falling! It's crashing! Ouch, my head!

What's this? I've fallen out of bed! Then it was all a dream after all. Well, anyway it was a lot of fun.

“JUST ABOUT THERE”

When we first caught sight of the new building, “ohs” and “ahs” were heard everywhere. That year there were fifty-two of us youngsters, and Miss Jones and Mr. Ricketts, our advisors, helped us through our first year in Junior High. Our class officers were: Otha Hook, President; vice-president, Harold Silvers; and secretary-treasurer, Harriett Cottrell.

Our second year in Junior High was spent under the successful leadership of Mr. Rodocker. Gabriel Katons was President; Kenneth Horn, vice-president; and Johnny Adams, secretary-treasurer.

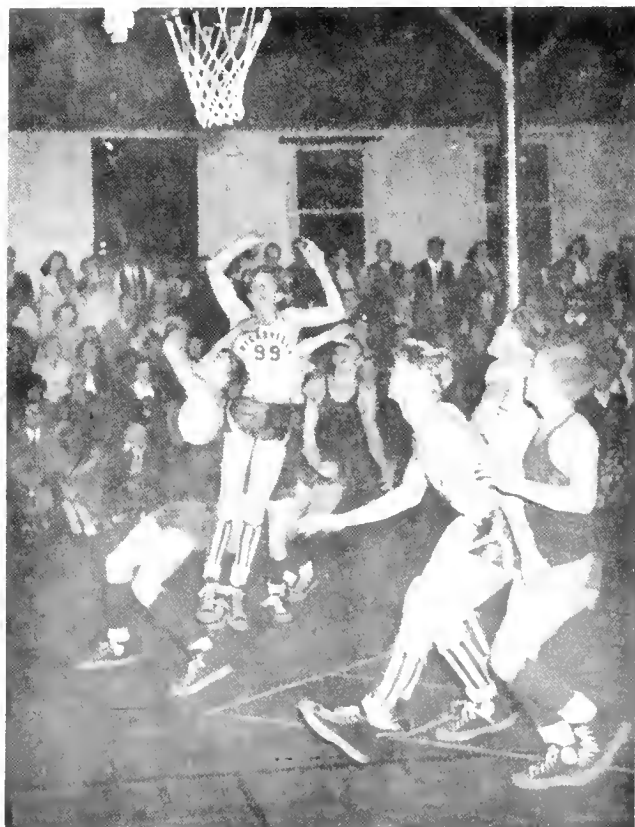

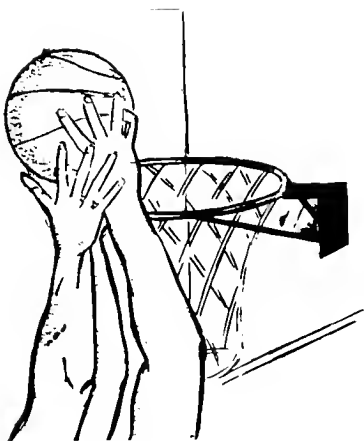

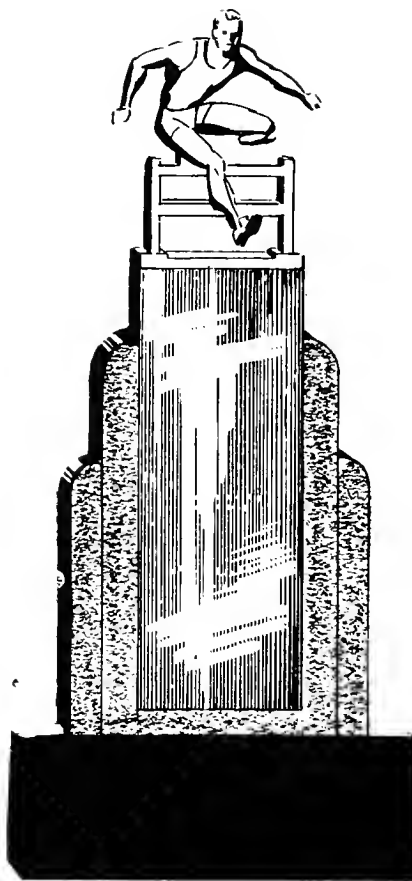

The Freshman year came and found everyone quite happy, for at last we were in high school. This year was spent under the guidance of Mr. Zimmerman. Our class officers were: Bob Mastin, Bob Scott, and Jane Burgoyne acting as President, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer respectively.

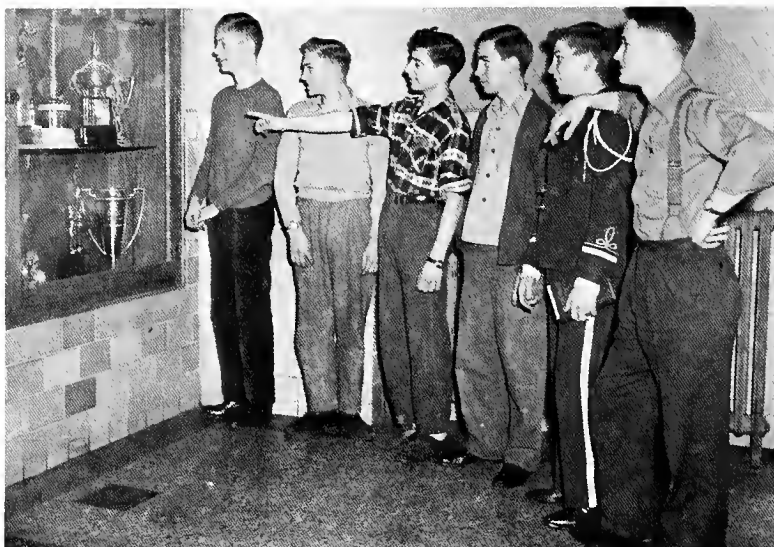

Our Sophomore year was quite a successful one under the leadership of Mrs. Culler and Mr. Sapp. We chose as our class motto, “We’re not at the top, but climbing”, our class colors are green and yellow and our flower is the yellow rose. Our class President was Carol Fox; vice-president, Evelyn Gordon; secretary, John Adams; and treasurer, Gabriel Katona, who all served as very good officers.

This year, under the guidance of Miss Holtmeyer and Miss Paxton, our Junior Class is having a wonderful time. We have forty-four in our class with the loss of two members, Bobby Rose and Otha Hook. It is a struggle to earn money for our prom and our senior class trip. We are enjoying many activities and are working hard in the hope that we will be as successful as preceding classes have been. We received our class rings and pins. Our class officers are: President, Kenny Horn; vice-president, Evelyn Gordon; secretary, Ruth Ann Whitman; and treasurer, Jo Ann Siebenaler.

“NOT LONG NOW”

Upon entering the new building, we, being seventh graders, were allowed to elect officers. We elected the following: President, Max Preston; vice-president, Janet Limpert; and secretary-treasurer, David Zimmerman. Mrs. Bungard was our class advisor and helped us plan and have our first party in the gym. Our Student Council representatives were Glen Miller, Nova Monroe, and David Zimmerman.

During the eighth grade, we were advised by Mr. Rodocker and elected David Zimmerman as President, Jo Ann Wilson as vice-president, and Estell Johnson as secretary-treasurer. Student Council members were Kenneth Koch, David Zimmerman, and Jo Ann Wilson. Again we had a party which was greatly enjoyed by all.

At last high school days had arrived. We were ably led through our Freshman year by President, Douglas Brown; vice-president, Patricia Saltzman; and secretary-treasurer, Harold Miller. Student Council members elected the second semester were Larry Schaufelberger, Max Preston, and Glen Miller. Our twenty, first-year Latin students enjoyed taking part in Latin Club meetings and receiving club pins. We sponsored a “March of Dimes Dance” which, in spite of very bad weather, was a great success.

This year our President is Glen Miller with Larry Schaufelberger as vice-president, Estell Johnson as secretary, and David Zimmerman as treasurer. New Student Council members have not yet been elected. We are well represented on the football team by Max Preston, Carl Beverly, Lynn Blalock, Kenneth Koch, and Glen Miller. Team managers are Larry Schaufelberger and Douglas Evans. We have had one class party which was a weiner roast at the Roadside Park. Later in the evening, we played games on Maxwell’s lawn. Nova Monroe was the Sophomore candidate for Homecoming Queen and was later chosen as one of the Queen’s attendants.

All thirty-eight of us are looking forward to our next two years of high school.

“STILL GOING”

As we entered into the new building in the fall of '45, we elected our class officers after quite an exciting first week. They were: Max Culler, President; Connie Kennedy, vice-president; and Glen Wonderly, secretary-treasurer. Our class advisors were Miss Holtmeyer and Mrs. Bungard. We were honored to have the cheer leaders chosen from the seventh grade, and they were Norma Poper, Joan Shull, and Patsy Wickerham. We had one class party in the gym, where we enjoyed dancing and games. Our members for the Student Council were Connie Kennedy, Gene Paul Volkert, and Ed Bakle.

In the eighth grade, we chose Glen Wonderly as President; Max Culler, vice-president; and Judith Blosser as Secretary-treasurer. We enjoyed several class parties throughout the year under the excellent supervision of Miss Holtmeyer and Mr. Snorf.

Now we bring you up to date as we entered the high school building as “freshies,” We felt quite proud of being able to choose our own subjects and club organizations. We elected Frances Toth as our freshman President; Judith Blosser as vice-president; and Shirley Mettert as secretary-treasurer. Our class advisors are Miss Howenstine and Mr. Davis. Our Student Council members carried over from last year were Mary Ann Katona, Larry Adcock, and Norbert Kees.

"ON OUR WAY"

We entered the new school building with eagerness, all looking forward to the activities of the forthcoming year. Our class advisors were Mrs. Bungard and Mr. Rodocker. It wasn't long until we elected our class officers who were as follows: President, Lowell Applegate; vice-president, Jim Hirzel; and secretary-treasurer, Bernadette Kenner. Our first class party was held in the gym on Tuesday, November 26, 1946. Everyone enjoyed this party since it was our first party held in the new building. Our second class party was on March 25, also in the gym. The seventh grade seemed to whiz by as there were a lot of new and different activities to be attended.

The beginning of the eighth grade went off with a bang. Class officers were elected as follows: President, Ed Neidhardt; vice-president, Sally DeMuth; and secretary-treasurer, Bernadette Kenner. Our class advisors are Mr. Lykens and Mr. Zimmerman. Everyone had a good time at our first class party which was held October 15, 1947, in the gym. We are all looking forward to a year of bigger and better, exciting activities.
